make an exhibition of yourself

It's that time of year again.

The industry's most prestigious exhibition is just around the corner, and you are tasked with giving YOUR stand that indefinable something that will draw the eye of the casual passer-by and hold the attention of the more determined visitor. It's a challenge you face every year ... and we'd be lying if we said we had the magic solution ... because it doesn't exist

What we can offer you is a range of value-for-money attractions that will make you proud of your stand, and make sure you get plenty of company!

Interactive Touchscreen Information Point

A great way for visitors to find out about your company, and for you to gather information about your visitors ... try an interactive competition.

After the show, you'll have a brilliant display for your Reception!

DVD

High quality, stable, uncomplicated and seamlessly-looped

Plasma display

Just about the sexiest way to display your messages

CD-ROM business cards

Handy little pocket-sized CDs to introduce yourself, your company and your product

CD-ROM giveaways

To show how generous you are, you can give visitors a CD containing your latest TV ad, product specifications, and a full media pack

We DON'T build exhibition stands, but we'll work closely with your designer and builder - or recommend one who we know will come up to scratch.
